On the Trail of Capital Flight from Africa investigates the dynamics of capital flight from Angola, Côte d'Ivoire, and South Africa, countries that have witnessed large-scale illicit financial outflows in recent decades. Quantitative, qualitative, and institutional analysis for each country is used to examine the modus operandi of capital flight; that is, the 'who', 'how', and 'where' dimensions of the phenomenon.

FEATURES

- Combines scholarly analysis with investigative financial reporting
- Demonstrates how capital flight is a global problem
- Offers a unique analysis of the role of 'state capture' and transnational networks in driving capital flight
